

Tradition of French Crêpe

Crêpes originate from Brittany, a region in the northwest of France, their consumption is nowadays widespread in France and is considered the national dish.

The wonderful wafer-thin crêpes fill a niche in contemporary dining. Made with light sauces and fillings, they suit today's passion for healthy fare.

This traditional French-style delicacy can be stuffed with either savoury or sweet ingredients. It can be around the clock for breakfast, lunch, evening or snack.

French based Novotel Century Hong Kong features a wide range of authentic French crêpes, with a menu of sweet and savoury crêpes created by our European chef.
